Riviera, with more character.

Bright, welcoming and coastal. A focused refinement of the dashboard you selected.

01

A darker anchor

Near-black warm charcoal gives the light workspace definition. The active page retains its gold icon tile.

02

A coastal welcome

Keep the panoramic architecture and sea. Place heading text on a calm ivory field.

03

Distinct status colors

Blue, cyan, yellow, purple, green, orange, red, pink and slate. Each status keeps its own hue across charts.

04

Compact, useful rhythm

Five smaller KPIs, then two funnels, then grouped and stacked agent charts.

Warm light. A deeper dark sidebar.

Ivory and honey remain the brand foundation. The navigation is now a darker, almost-black warm charcoal.

Use one primary action, right aligned in the filter toolbar. Dark text stays legible on the honey fill.

Three voices. One clear hierarchy.

Distinctive titles, comfortable UI text and clean small labels. Real font files are included in the handoff.

The image is an art-direction mockup. The shipped fonts, axis settings, tokens and vectors define the exact implementation.

Every element has a place.

The sidebar establishes orientation. Compact KPI cards communicate magnitude without consuming the dashboard.

Rendering and meaning

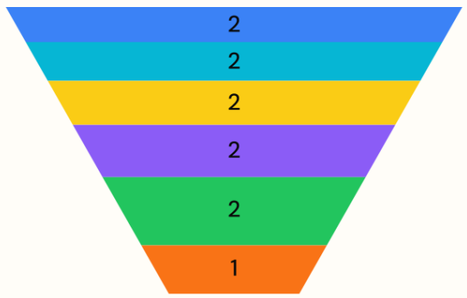

Every named status has its own hue. Keep the complete eight-status legend for affair stacks, including zero categories. Draw segments only for nonzero values; Clôturé stays unknown. Use #0A0A0A labels inside vivid fills and white on slate. This is a current distribution, not cohort conversion.

Beautiful, with a measurable foundation.

Four deterministic SVG assets accompany the mockup. Their values, labels, geometry and stage mapping are explicit.

Agent charts use fictional agents A-D and illustrative allocations. Requests compare September and October; stacked affairs show a current-stage example. Replace these allocations with real ownership data before using the charts as performance reporting.

Compact does not mean crowded.

Use a consistent 4 / 8 px rhythm. Reduce oversized containers while preserving readable labels and comfortable controls.

Below 1280 px, KPIs wrap. Below 1100 px, paired panels stack. Below 900 px, navigation becomes an accessible drawer. Below 560 px, use 16 px page gutters and allow filters to wrap.

Data scope stays visible.

Contacts actifs 12 and Affaires actives 6 describe the current snapshot. Demandes reçues 12, Affaires gagnées 0 and Encaissements 0,00 MAD use 1-31 October 2026. Funnels remain a current distribution.

Behavior stays predictable.

The date control applies to period metrics; source definitions remain intact. Keep clear keyboard focus, named icon buttons, readable empty states, and a table equivalent for charts. Remove the refresh control.

Quiet surfaces. Precise boundaries.

A restrained border system keeps the page open while making controls and keyboard focus easy to locate.

Motion and focus

Use 120 ms color and surface transitions. With reduced motion enabled, remove those transitions. Keep a visible focus ring around the actual interactive target; do not use a shadow as its only indicator.

Color follows a clear role.

KPI categories, chart statuses and interface feedback each have explicit assignments. The label remains visible with the color.

Ready to carry into the product.

The image communicates the design direction. The package provides exact tokens, fonts, CSS and chart assets.

Included in the package

Design tokens

191 tokens: colors, typography, spacing, borders, states and charts.

CSS foundation

Self-hosted font loading, custom properties and key components.

Webfonts, icons + notices

Three variable WOFF2 fonts, 19 Lucide SVGs and original license files.

Chart data + vectors

Four SVG panels with explicit counts and demonstration ownership.

Implementation checks

Keep the existing KAY logo; use the official vector mark in the application.

Use the token hex values as the source of truth; image pixels are illustrative.

Keep original metric definitions and distinguish snapshot from selected period.

Recheck focus, reflow, chart alternatives and text over photography in the live app.

Contrast targets, verified at token level [5]

Charcoal text on honey: 6.94:1. White active label on #252D24: 14.19:1. Secondary sidebar text on #121512: 10.03:1. All nine categorical fill/label pairs exceed 4.5:1. These calculated pairs do not certify the entire application.
